2025 Cybersecurity M&A and Capital Markets Report

*A Record $119B in Strategic Activity
Across Acquisitions, IPOs & Financings;
Strategic Buyers' Domination; and an Emerging Two-Tier Market*

January 2026

In This Report...

- Annual cybersecurity M&A deal value and volume over the last decade
- CYBERscape 4.0 – a comprehensive revamp of the cyber landscape taxonomy
- Quarterly cybersecurity M&A deal value and volume with YoY change
- Analysis on the size of deals, time to exit, and capital raised for M&A deals in 2025
- Monthly cybersecurity M&A deal value and volume with YoY change
- Most active strategic buyers and investors since 2019
- Transaction volume and value based on target company subsector
- Most active buyers in 2025 and what kinds of companies they are acquiring
- Cybersecurity SaaS vs. Non-SaaS analysis on a yearly basis
- Winners vs. underperformers, unicorns crowned and exited since 2019, an Israel M&A spotlight, and much more...

Cybersecurity Themes Entering 2026

A collaboration with IT-Harvest on how AI is driving the future of cybersecurity

Introduction

Cybersecurity is entering its fastest and most consequential period of change. Artificial intelligence has moved from an emerging technology to a foundational layer of enterprise operations, simultaneously amplifying attacker capabilities and forcing a fundamental rethink of how security is designed, governed, and executed.

For nearly two decades, IT-Harvest has been one of the industry's most trusted sources of independent cybersecurity intelligence. Under the leadership of Richard Stiennon — author, speaker, and former Gartner VP — the firm has consistently provided data-driven insight into how new technologies reshape security markets and operating models.

Momentum Cyber is honored to collaborate with Richard and the IT-Harvest team on this year's report. His foreword captures the defining reality of the current cycle: the rapid emergence of AI security as the fastest-forming sub-sector in cybersecurity history, driven by the collision of enterprise AI adoption, automated threats, and immature governance frameworks.

That perspective sets the stage for this analysis. Building on that foundation, this report examines how AI is reshaping both offense and defense, how capital and consolidation are flowing through the cybersecurity ecosystem, and why securing AI systems has become a board-level imperative.

Cybersecurity has always evolved in response to inflection points: the commercialization of the internet, the rise of cloud computing, the proliferation of mobile devices, and the industrialization of cybercrime. Each shift expanded the digital attack surface and demanded new defensive paradigms. None, however, has arrived with the speed, scale, and economic force of artificial intelligence.

The launch of ChatGPT in late 2022 marked more than a product release — it triggered the fastest technology adoption cycle in history and inaugurated what can only be described as the Machine Age. In less than three years, generative AI moved from research labs into every enterprise workflow, compressing decades of technological diffusion into months. The result has been a profound asymmetry: unprecedented productivity gains on one side, and an equally unprecedented expansion of systemic risk on the other.

Cybersecurity now sits at the fulcrum of this transformation. AI is not merely another tool attackers can abuse; it is a force multiplier that automates reconnaissance, accelerates exploit development, enables convincing social engineering at scale, and introduces entirely new attack vectors — from prompt injection and model poisoning to autonomous, agent-driven attacks operating at machine speed. At the same time, enterprises are rushing to embed AI into mission-critical systems long before governance, security, and regulatory frameworks have fully matured.

“ We are entering an era in which security can no longer be reactive, episodic, or human-paced. The guardians of this age will be those who understand that securing AI is not a niche problem—it is the central challenge of the digital economy. ”

This tension has catalyzed the fastest emergence of a new cybersecurity sub-industry ever recorded. In just three years, 330+ AI-security vendors have been founded, billions of dollars have been invested, and strategic acquisitions by incumbent security leaders have begun to reshape the market. What once would have taken decades—from the transistor to the microprocessor, from the internet to cloud security—has unfolded in a fraction of that time. The velocity itself is now a defining risk factor.

Yet this moment is not defined solely by threat. As history shows, every technological leap produces its guardians. A new class of cybersecurity companies is emerging to secure models, govern AI behavior, protect data in use, enforce guardrails on autonomous systems, and align enterprise AI adoption with regulatory regimes such as the EU AI Act, NIST’s AI Risk Management Framework, and ISO 42001. These companies are not defending endpoints or networks alone; they are defending decision-making systems, intellectual capital, and trust itself.

This annual report is Momentum Cyber’s perspective on that transformation. Drawing on deep market intelligence and foundational research, we examine how AI is reshaping both offense and defense, how capital and consolidation are flowing through the cybersecurity ecosystem, and why AI security and governance have moved from experimental concerns to board-level imperatives. More importantly, we explore what comes next: a future where cybersecurity must operate at machine speed, with automated defenses confronting automated threats.

“ In January 2025, I wrote that “By the end of 2025 there will be a noticeable impact on SOCs at large organizations and MDR companies as they deploy AI agents instead of people.” I was wrong. During 2025, AI Security as a category exploded. When I wrote that there were a handful of SOC Automation vendors talking about 100% alert triage and automated case handling. As in everything AI related, time scales are compressed. By April there were 86 vendors in the AI Security Category. Entering 2026, there are over 330! ”

2025 Cybersecurity Activity

Market activity and strategic maneuvering reaches new heights

M&A Activity

400 M&A deals in 2025 marked the most active year ever

Total volume of $96B showed a record year, with mega deals like Google's $32B acquisition of Wiz and Palo Alto's $25B acquisition of CyberArk leading the way

M&A deal volume included $34.7B across 103 deals in Q1, $3.6B across 109 deals in Q2, $44.2B across 94 deals in Q3, and $13.7B across 94 deals in Q4

There were 8 billion-dollar plus deals in 2025 and 38 deals worth over $100M

Financing Activity

Activity was high in 1H '25 and remained strong in Q3 and Q4 with 820 deals in 2025

Financing deal volume included $2.7B across 211 deals in Q1, $9.0B across 210 deals in Q2, $2.6B across 199 deals in Q3, and $6.4B across 200 deals in Q4

Total financing value increased 52% in 2025 from $13.6B to $20.7B

There were 70 capital raises $\geq $50M$ in 2025

Public Market Activity

High growth cyber increased, in line with the Nasdaq and S&P 500 this year, while low growth cyber declined over the past 12 months. Most indexes saw a rough last 6 weeks of the year

High growth security stocks were especially strong in 2025, increasing 10%, while low growth stocks declined 7%, bucking the trend of broader market patterns

The top performers across Cybersecurity in 2025 included Cloudflare (83%↑), CrowdStrike (37%↑), and Zscaler (25%↑)

CYBERscape 4.0

Why Did We Revamp the CYBERscape?

Introducing CYBERscape 4.0: A More Useful & Clearer View of the New Cybersecurity Landscape

Momentum Cyber is proud to re-release the most trusted and comprehensive cybersecurity landscape ever created – CYBERscape 4.0.

After three years, we didn't just update it. We rebuilt it. Because the industry didn't need another convoluted, alphabet-soup taxonomy. It needed clarity.

For years, large analyst firms have pushed out endless new categories and terminology, often creating noise rather than insight. Decision makers we speak with are exhausted by sector sprawl. CYBERscape 4.0 is our answer: a streamlined, intuitive framework built for operators, investors, and strategists who make decisions.

Despite its scale, CYBERscape 4.0 is remarkably easy to digest. It helps users quickly wrap their heads around a constantly shifting landscape while surfacing the emerging companies reshaping the future of security. Plus, this is our first update since the advent of AI.

Built through significant contributions across our team, CYBERscape 4.0 showcases not only the breadth of the cybersecurity market, but the depth of innovation happening within it. The result: a powerful, decision-ready map of the cybersecurity ecosystem.

Highlights

- 1,562 cybersecurity companies
- 1,000 unique cybersecurity companies
- 12 core, thoughtfully consolidated sectors
- 62 subsectors
- New and improved AI Security segment
- A clean, simplified taxonomy that makes it easier than ever to navigate an industry that evolves at unprecedented speed

M&A Activity in Cybersecurity

Annual Cybersecurity M&A Deal Value and Volume

2025 was another record-shattering year for Cybersecurity M&A

- 2025 in Review: 2025 saw $96B spent across 400 transactions, highlighted by several mega deals. Deal value was up 270% in 2025, while deal volume was up 22%
- Larger Deals: Going from $26B in 2024 to just under $100B in 2025 is a significant jump, thanks to several massive deals, like Wiz / Google, CyberArk take-private by Palo Alto, and more. Even more interesting is deal volume increasing 22% as PE firms build larger cybersecurity portfolios (like Hornet Security being acquired by Proofpoint) along with strategic cybersecurity acquirers having a huge and increased impact on the deal making landscape

Monthly Cybersecurity M&A Deal Value and Volume

Three extremely large M&A deals bolster the value for 2025, while deal volume was up in almost every month in 2025

- Increased Volume: In 2025, M&A activity increased YoY across 8 of 12 months. Higher deal velocity for cybersecurity as buyers look to consolidate the fragmented submarkets of cyber
- Mega Deals are Back: With 8 $1B+ disclosed deals worth a whopping $87.2B, 2025 saw some of the largest cybersecurity deals ever. These 8 were Google / Wiz in March ($32B), Palo Alto / CyberArk in July ($25B), HPE / Juniper Networks in July ($16B), ServiceNow / Armis in December ($7.7B) Francisco Partners / Jamf in October ($2.5B), TPG-backed Veeam / Securiti also in October ($1.7B), ServiceNow / Veza in December ($1.0B) and Thoma-backed Proofpoint / Hornetsecurity in May ($1.0B)

Cybersecurity M&A Transactions Based on Company Segment

Deal activity jumped 22% YoY with larger deals in 2025 leading to more disclosed deal volume

- Across 2024 and 2025, buyers prioritized proven operational categories, with Security Services generating the highest volume and a consistent mix across Risk & Compliance, IAM, Digital Channel Security, and SecOps
- Value, however, realigned in 2025. After SecOps led in 2024, capital moved decisively toward Cloud Security, IAM, and Network Security, reflecting a pivot toward modernization and cloud-first architectures

SaaS vs. Non-SaaS Cybersecurity M&A Deal Value and Volume

Cybersecurity SaaS M&A deal activity continues to pick up with 2025 being the highest on record

- Since 2021, Cybersecurity SaaS M&A Volume has Exploded: This reflects the fragmented market that is consolidating as strategic buyers and PE backers roll up high-growth, cloud-native players. Deal volume in 2025 passed 200 transactions for the first time, as cybersecurity SaaS M&A transactions have grown at a CAGR of 22% since 2019

Strategics Re-Emerge to Take the Mantle in 2025

Record strategic M&A spending reshapes the Cybersecurity landscape while PE activity holds steady

- Strategics More Active in 2025: Strategics are operating at the highest M&A activity level on record. Public buyers like Google and Palo Alto are deploying billions on category leaders and AI native platforms, while VC-backed acquirers are using stock to pay higher prices and consolidate competitors, while expanding product breadth. Even excluding Google's $32B acquisition of Wiz and Palo Alto's $25B take-private of CyberArk, Strategics still represented 80% of all M&A capital deployed in 2025
- PEs Still Making Deals: PEs completed 41% of M&A deals in 2025, a relatively flat year as the stratification of cybersecurity assets continues to rise. Elevated valuations and intense bidding for top tier companies lengthened processes, while the number of failed sales increased for businesses that would have traded easily in prior years

M&A Deal Volume & Multiples (2020 – 2025)

Cybersecurity M&A activity since 2020 with disclosed transactions values

- Large Deals: The median deal value for cybersecurity M&A transactions since 2020 is $100M
- 2025 Especially: 2025 has a median disclosed deal value of $117M, 17% higher than the 6-year median
- Valuation Drivers: Cybersecurity M&A valuations vary based on factors such as growth, market position, technology differentiation, customer traction, team quality, leadership strength, and overall deal dynamics
- Market Reality: Despite cybersecurity commanding some of the highest valuations in tech, 47% of disclosed M&A transactions are priced at 5.0x EV/Revenue or below
- Premium Buyers: Revenue multiples of 15x or more are typically paid by cash-rich or stock-rich acquirers willing to pay what it requires to secure the asset

Large Cybersecurity M&A Transactions Make a Comeback

Cybersecurity M&A transactions over $100M in value are at the highest level since the highs of 2021-2022

- Large cybersecurity deals have returned to COVID-highs as Strategics and PE platforms consolidate critical categories like cloud, identity, and infrastructure security
- The comeback of big-ticket M&A is being driven by stronger budgets, maturing SaaS adoption, and a renewed strategic race to own end-to-end security platforms
- All that to say, only 1 in 4 M&A deals disclose the EV paid

Financing Activity in Cybersecurity

Annual Cybersecurity Financing Deal Value and Volume

$119B+ of capital has been deployed across 6,500 deals in the cybersecurity landscape since January 2019

- 2025 in Review: 2025 saw $20.7B raised across 820 transactions, highlighted by deals from companies like Reliaquest, Swimlane, Dream, and others. Deal value was up 52% in 2025, while deal volume was down 20%
- Larger Deals⁽¹⁾: The median deal value for 2025 was $12M, while 2024 was $10M. Also, there were 70 deals where $50M+ of capital was invested, compared to 52 such deals in 2024
- Funding Divides the Market: The 52% increase in cybersecurity venture capital deployment was led by AI-driven startups. Yet this surge masked a deep bifurcation, as late-stage winners commanded premium valuations while many early-stage founders struggled to raise follow-on rounds

Source: Pitchbook, Momentum Cyber proprietary transaction database.

Cybersecurity Funding Exceeds Pre-COVID Levels

Q2 '25 saw the highest amount of capital deployed since 2021

Monthly Cybersecurity Financing Deal Value and Volume

There is a flight to quality in VC activity, as scaled platforms are drawing strong valuations while early-stage firms have more trouble raising

- Less Volume, More Value: The first 6 months of 2025 all saw less activity than the previous year. November stood out, with 30% more deals YoY
- June 2025: Several large debt deals by some of the most notable public cybersecurity firms enhanced the funding numbers for June 2025. Specifically, CyberArk ($1,250M), Cloudflare ($2,000M), Rapid7 ($200M), and Zscaler ($1,750M). Not to mention Cato Networks' Series G raise of $359M led by Vitruvian Partners

Cybersecurity VC Transactions By Segment

Deal activity remained steady YoY, with Network Security and IAM seeing stronger investment volume in 2025 compared to 2024

- Shift Towards AI Security: VC investors are pivoting towards AI solutions as AI-driven and cloud-native environments expand the enterprise attack surface
- Sustained Strength in Risk & Compliance: Despite a shift towards less capital, Risk & Compliance continues to see strong deal volume because of low entry barriers for startups and consistent demand from changing regulatory pressures, supply chain security, and AI governance
- We are witnessing a maturing market, where investors are backing infrastructure and identity solutions that are critical towards securing AI and complex enterprise ecosystems

Return to Table of Contents

Cybersecurity VC Transactions By Stage

Mega later stage financings held the VC scene in 2024, while debt deals are capturing a significant portion of dollars in 2025

- More Money in Later Stages: Not including debt transactions, Series B deals in 2024 accounted for 12% of all VC capital deployed – this has increased to 24% in 2025
- Similar Spread: On a deal count basis, there were no significant changes between 2024 and 2025

Cybersecurity VC Transactions By Stage (Cont.)

Cybersecurity financings are consolidating around scaled players as PE capital accelerates

- PE Interest: PE firms are deploying over twice as much capital in cybersecurity in 2025 compared to 2023
- Scaled Platforms Getting Bigger: The median Series C financing has grown from $50M in 2023 to over $80M in 2025

Type	2023	2024	2025

Cybersecurity Financing Transactions By Region

The United States remains the hotbed for cybersecurity funding, but 2025 has seen more capital flow into Israel than 2024

- U.S. Remains Dominant: In 2025, the United States-based companies accounted for 56% of all minority financing volume and 69% of all VC capital deployed. This is relatively similar to 2024, where the U.S. saw 56% of all deal volume and 84% of all value

- Israel Making Waves: 2025 has seen a resurgence for Israel-based cybersecurity companies, as companies here have slightly increased their volume on a percentage basis (from 8% of deal flow to 9%), but have quadrupled their share of the total capital deployed, capturing 24% of all minority financing dollars in 2025, compared to just 6% in 2024

High-Growth Cyber Also Trade at Higher EBITDA Multiples

High-growth Cyber companies are performing higher than low growth companies across almost all valuation metrics

Growth Still Key Indicator of Valuation, But Doesn't Tell Full Story

Revenue growth has an R² score of 19% on the Cybersecurity public comps industry, telling us that more goes into valuation than just growth

This Leaves Us Wondering... Who is Next?

We predict 2026 to be a breakout year for IPOs given favorable market conditions and the largest backlog of high-quality companies ever

Even after a slight comeback in 2025 with 2 IPOs, the cybersecurity IPO pipeline remains packed. With over 30 credible candidates lining up for 2026 and beyond, the sector's public-market expansion looks more like a marathon than a sprint, with VC-backed super stars and scaled PE platforms nearing public markets
